

Torah Parasha Project

The purpose of this project is to provide you with the experience of developing a deep knowledge of a Torah portion. For most of you, it will be your Bar/Bat Mitzvah Torah portion, but for some others, it will be one of your choice, if your B'nei Mitzvah celebration has already passed or if you are not having a "typical" synagogue celebration. The final product of this project is to be a reflection of what you have personally learned from your studies of the parasha over the course of the entire project. There are no right or wrong answers, only a proper format and content areas, which you are expected to fulfill. This project is to be completed individually, whether or not you share your parasha with another student in the class. You are welcome to study the text together to begin the assignments, but the project is individual and must be completed as such.

This project is to be completed within the VTT Google docs domain with all documents being shared with Morah Tiki. Rabbi Infeld will be working with you in class as well, to support you in your learning. Using Google docs allows us to be able to comment and edit assignments without paper printouts and to do so from any location with internet access. A document need be shared only once in order for us to have access to it. Make sure you share with the students.talmudtorah.com address and not the regular VTT email address. We are notified any time that edits have been made. Documents created outside of Google docs will not be accepted or marked. If you create an assignment outside of that domain, please copy and paste it into Google docs. The assignments for the project are the following:

ASSIGNMENT	DESCRIPTION
SUMMARY	You will read your entire parasha in English and then summarize the plot of the text in your own words. Copying or paraphrasing a summary from another source will not be accepted and will be considered a violation of the plagiarism policies of the school. The summary should be approximately one single-spaced page in length. The title of the assignment must include the name of the parasha and the citation of book, chapter and verse range for the entire parasha (eg. Parashat Vayikra, Leviticus 2:10-5:7). Don't forget to start your bibliography with whatever websites or other sources you used for this assignment.
GLOSSARY	You will choose at least 10 biblical Hebrew keywords from the parasha that are central to the understanding of the text for this assignment. Morah Tiki will advise students of different Hebrew levels regarding selections of words that meet each student's abilities. Trying to use Google translate from English to Hebrew will not work for this assignment as the translator does not go from English to biblical Hebrew. You must use the original biblical Hebrew source for your words. The finished assignment must include: a proper title (same format as the first assignment), the biblical Hebrew word from the Torah, the translation, and the complete pasuk from which you took the word. Don't forget to add to your bibliography, if necessary.
FAVORITE PASUK	You will choose one pasuk from your parasha that stands out either as your favorite pasuk, for one reason or another, or as a pasuk that really captures your attention. You will thoughtfully explain your selection of this pasuk in a minimum of one full and complete paragraph. You are expected to discuss text-self/text-text/text-world connections in the assignment. Once a first draft is complete, Rabbi Infeld and Morah Tiki will discuss your response with you and suggest questions or topics to deepen your thinking and understanding of your selected pasuk. This assignment must include a title with the book, chapter, and verse citation of the pasuk and its text in Hebrew and English. Don't forget to add to your bibliography, if necessary.
SELECTED COMMENTARY	From your reading of the entire parasha, you will select a phrase of text or a word that requires further exploration. Once you have chosen something that you would like to explore more deeply, you will choose two different commentaries, preferably one traditional (like Rashi) and one modern (likely from the JPS Commentary on the back shelf in Morah Tiki's room) to study for this assignment. For this assignment, you will complete the following requirements: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1) Copy and paste the text being commented upon in Hebrew and English.</li> <li>2) Copy and paste or type in the text of the commentary.</li> <li>3) Research the commentator and provide some details about his life and times.</li> <li>4) Summaries of the commentaries written in your own words, including a clear answer to the question: "WHAT WAS BOTHERING THE COMMENTATOR?" (What question was the commentator trying to answer with his commentary?)</li> <li>5) An explanation of how this commentary added to your understanding of the text.</li> <li>6) Bibliography citations on your bibliography assignment.</li> </ol>

PERSONAL STATEMENT	This assignment is focused on your overall learning from the parasha and the project. You will discuss lessons you learned from the parasha and skills that you learned from the process of the project. This assignment must include: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1) What are some facts from the parasha that you didn't know before? Don't be afraid to say that this is the first time you had ever studied this parasha in depth.</li> <li>2) What are some skills that you developed or learned from this project?</li> <li>3) What are two BIG IDEAS (major lessons/morals of the parasha captured in a catchphrase) that can be taken away from this parasha that you find meaningful and relevant?</li> <li>4) How can the lessons of this parasha be applied today?</li> </ol>
BIBLIOGRAPHY	A properly formatted and complete bibliography that includes citations for all books and websites used for research on this project.
BIG IDEAS POSTER	You will create a double-sided poster for your two big ideas, with one big idea on each side of the poster. The poster will be hung in the hallways of the school to celebrate and display our learning this year. Each side of the poster must include: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1) The big idea</li> <li>2) The name of the parasha and citation of book, chapters, and verses</li> <li>3) Your name</li> <li>4) Any images or pictures you would like to include</li> </ol>
TITLE PAGE	The booklet that you create with all of your assignments needs a cover page. Your cover page should be a reflection of the learning you achieved throughout the project. Therefore, the title page must include the name of your parasha , the language of your BIG IDEAS, and some visual images that support or match the messages and content of your parasha .
IN-CLASS PRESENTATION	When the projects are completed, each student will be making a brief presentation to the class to discuss their learning and lessons from the parasha . The format for the presentation is up to the student, but must be approved by Morah Tiki or Rabbi Infeld. We will provide details of what should be included in your presentation in the Spring.

There are many websites that will assist you in your research and preparation of this project. We will provide you with a few on the wiki page to get you started, but you are responsible for your own research and determining the reliability of websites. Of course, all of your sources (books or websites) must be included in your bibliography.

Good luck!!
